Presentation: Project Opioid South Florida (POSF)– Jan Thoman

Jan Thoman, Tri-County Manager, displayed the opioid reversal kit. They are putting them in bars, hotels, restaurants, and other establishments, and working with the police departments, fire departments, and BSO. They work with HIDA and the DEA, daily. Dr MacDougall is in zoom meetings with them and the Florida Department of Health every week.

During COVID there was a big rise in overdoses with teens getting pills through social media platforms such as Instagram, emojis, and snapchat. They partner with Miami-Dade Public Schools. They did over 50 assemblies already. They are working on Broward and Palm Beach. POSF does trainings at churches, libraries, schools, and anywhere they need a training. They are distributing Opioid Reversal Emergency kits that contain Naloxone spray. There is a shot one time up the nostril to get oxygen to the brain, so they don't get brain damage. The person should start gasping for air and if not in two minutes, spray the second injection into the other nostril. If it's not opioid or it's something different the spray will not cause any problems.

Discussion Included:

Dr. Keroff asked if it was available for distribution? Walmart has it for $45.00/box. POSF, non-profit, has it free through a grant. Ms. Thoman said if they need any to send her an email or call (jthoman@gfalliance.org or 954-830-5262). She will try to deliver it to them. If it's not in stock, she will try to get it. Some first responders have their own grant. Ms. Thoman said there is another one coming out in a couple of months, and one that just came out.

The complete presentation is available upon request.
